Juice and sodas are made from fruits, vegetables and sugar coming from farms all around the globe. Unfortunately, many of these farms – both small and industrial – use forced or child labor. Thankfully, there are companies out there who are committing to fair trade.

PRODUCTS

We recommend the following products as slavery-free options.

Calypso® Fairtrade Pure Apple Juice

Calypso® Fairtrade Pure Apple Juice has the FAIRTRADE® Certification Mark, meaning ingredients are sourced from small, independent farm groups who are guaranteed good working conditions.

Naked Juice® Banana Chocolate Protein Juice Smoothie

The Banana Chocolate Protein Juice Smoothie by Naked Juice® uses bananas that are sourced from farms that are Rainforest Alliance Certified™, a label indicating a commitment to sustainable livelihoods for farmers and their families.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>BEST</th>
<th>BETTER</th>
<th>GOOD</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Calypso®</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Calypso® is a UK-based soft drinks company that specializes in drinks for school lunches, but some of their products can be found in British supermarkets and on Amazon.com. They have a wide assortment of fruit juices, sodas and freezer popsicles, but so far, only their Fairtrade Pure Apple Juice and Fairtrade Pure Orange Juice lines have the FAIRTRADE® Certification Mark. These juices are made from quality fruit grown by small, independent farm groups in South America and South Africa who are compensated fairly for their work and are free from forced labor or unjust working conditions.</td>
<td>Naked Juice®</td>
<td>Naked Juice® is a subsidiary company of PepsiCo Inc. that specializes in healthy juices and smoothies made with all natural ingredients. Although most of their initiatives focus on environmental preservation and sustainability, the company is working towards a safer work environment for the farmers in its supply chains. Right now, Naked Juice® sources all bananas used in their products from farms that are Rainforest Alliance Certified™. Rainforest Alliance™ is a non-profit organization that’s committed to ensuring sustainable livelihoods for farmers and their families. Banana farmers under Naked Juice® are given access to healthcare, transportation and education programs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Honest®</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Honest® seeks to create and promote great-tasting, organic beverages that are Fair Trade Certified™. In 2014 the company paid $200,124 back to their tea and sugar sourcing communities in the form of fair trade premiums. These funds have helped to establish improved farming, healthcare and education initiatives.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Coffee beans often come from plantations where workers are abused, exploited and unpaid. Fortunately, there are fair trade alternatives available at coffee shops and grocery stores.

PRODUCTS

We recommend the following products as slavery-free options.

Equal Exchange® Organic Mind, Body & Soul

Organic Mind, Body & Soul from Equal Exchange® is a Vienna roast blend, and like all coffee from Equal Exchange®, it comes from farms where there is no forced labor.

Newman’s Own® Organics Newman’s Special Blend

Newman’s Own® Organics Newman’s Special Blend is one of three Keurig® K-Cup® options with the Fair Trade Certified™ label which indicates fair labor practices.

Dunkin’ Donuts® Espresso

Espresso beans used by Dunkin’ Donuts® are Fair Trade Certified™, a label indicating farmers are fairly compensated for their labor and harvest.

Starbucks® Italian Roast

Starbucks® carries Starbucks® Italian Roast and Café Estima Blend® which both have the FAIRTRADE® Certification Mark, indicating no forced labor was used on the farms they came from.
Equal Exchange®

Equal Exchange® is one of the largest worker cooperatives in the United States and is the world’s largest worker-owned coffee roaster. The company is the leading fair trade brand in food and beverages in the U.S., with one of the largest fair trade supplies in coffee products. Their coffee comes from small farming partners in Mexico, Central America, South America, Africa and Southeast Asia.

Newman’s Own® Organics

Newman’s Own® Organics has three Keurig® K-Cup® options with the Fair Trade Certified™ label. Fair Trade Certified™ guarantees farmers a fair price for their harvest, allowing them to invest in their crops, their communities and their future. In addition, Newman’s Own® Foundation continues Paul Newman’s commitment to donate all royaltys and after-tax profits from its products to charity. Paul Newman and the Newman’s Own® Foundation have given over $400 million to thousands of charities since 1982.

Caribou Coffee®

Caribou Coffee® Company is a specialty coffee and espresso retailer. They are committed to a socially responsible supply chain and a healthier planet with 100% of their coffee and espresso Rainforest Alliance Certified™.

Costa Coffee®

Costa Coffee is a British multinational coffeehouse company. It is the second largest coffeehouse chain in the world behind Starbucks® and the largest in Britain. Costa Coffee® is the only coffee chain in the UK that only uses sustainably grown beans sourced from Rainforest Alliance Certified™ farms. Costa Coffee®, supports farmers and workers worldwide who are working to improve their livelihoods and those of their families.

Dunkin’ Donuts®

In 2004, Dunkin’ Donuts® became the first national (U.S.) brand of coffee to sell 100% Fair Trade Certified™ espresso beans. The Fair Trade Certified™ label indicates that farmers are justly compensated for the work that they do, without the threat of forced labor or slavery. By 2012, Dunkin’ Donuts® had given back $9 million in premiums to farming communities who then use that money to invest in their community, improve product quality and construct infrastructure or provide for other community projects based on their unique needs.

Starbucks®

Starbucks® has offered fair trade coffee since 2000, and in 2013, it purchased 33.4 million pounds (8.4% of its purchases) of coffee certified by Fairtrade International. Fairtrade International is a global organization working to secure a better living conditions for farmers and workers.

Gloria Jean’s Coffees

Gloria Jean’s Coffees is a franchised specialty coffeehouse company. Offering the largest variety of Rainforest Alliance Certified™ coffees available. Farmers from Rainforest Alliance Certified™ farms are fairly compensated for their labor.
Tea leaves often come from farms in Asia that use child and forced labor. Forced to work long hours and exposed to toxic pesticides, these laborers are kept indebted and trapped in these conditions.

PRODUCTS

We recommend the following products as slavery-free options.

- Honest® Tea Half Tea & Half Lemonade
  Honest® Tea’s Half Tea & Half Lemonade, like all its other Fair Trade Certified™ tea, is made without forced labor.

- Whole Foods Market® 365 Everyday Value® Unsweetened Green Tea
  Whole Foods Market® 365 Everyday Value® Unsweetened Green Tea is Fair Trade Certified™ and made by fairly paid workers.

- Bigelow® English Breakfast K-Cup®
  The Bigelow® English Breakfast K-Cup® is Fair Trade Certified™, meaning ingredients are sourced from small, independent farm groups who are guaranteed good working conditions.

- Trader Joe’s® Organic Yerba Mate Tea
  Trader Joe’s® Organic Yerba Mate Tea is Fair Trade Certified™, a label indicating fair labor practices.

- Equal Exchange® Organic Chai
  Equal Exchange® Organic Chai and other tea from Equal Exchange® are fair trade and come from farms where there is no forced labor.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>BRANDS &amp; COMPANIES</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>BEST</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Equal Exchange®</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Equal Exchange® is one of the largest worker cooperatives in the United States and is committed to equitable trade, democratic decision-making and sustainability. Its teas come from small farming partners in India, Sri Lanka and South Africa.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BETTER</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Honest®</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Honest® seeks to create and promote great-tasting, organic beverages that are Fair Trade Certified™. In 2014 the company paid $200,124 back to their tea and sugar sourcing communities in the form of fair trade premiums. These funds have helped to establish improved farming, healthcare and education initiatives.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GOOD</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bigelow®</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bigelow® is a member of the Ethical Tea Partnership, a non-profit that strives to improve conditions for tea workers and smallholder farmers. Its English Breakfast K-Cup®, which is Fair Trade Certified™, is sold in major grocery stores throughout the U.S. as well as on Keurig®’s website.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trader Joe’s®</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trader Joe’s® monitors compliance with supply chain laws through scheduled and unannounced visits and audits of suppliers’ facilities. The Fair Trade Certified™ Trader Joe’s® Organic Yerba Mate Tea can be purchased online.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Whole Foods Market®</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Whole Foods Market® carries several Fair Trade Certified™ tea products in its 365 Everyday Value® line. Additionally, it launched the Whole Trade® Guarantee program which helps fund projects such as new community centers, schools and homes for its supplier communities in developing countries.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Alcohol beverages include ingredients such as sugar, quinoa, rice and grapes that are sometimes sourced from farms that practice forced or child labor. Fortunately, there are fair trade alternatives available to companies and brands that want to produce slave free drinks.

Products

We recommend the following products as slavery-free options.

Target® Wandering Grape™ Malbec Merlot
Found only at Target®, Wandering Grape™ Malbec Merlot is a Fair Trade Certified™ wine made by fairly paid workers in Argentina.

FAIR.® Rum
FAIR.® produces rum made with Fair Trade Certified™ sugar from Belize. Like all the other Fair Trade Certified™ spirits from FAIR.®, this was made without forced labor.

Stellar Organics® Sauvignon Blanc
Stellar Organics® Sauvignon Blanc and all wines produced by Stellar Winery Limited have the Fair for Life® label, indicating that workers received fair compensation for their labor.

Sam’s Club® Neu Direction® Malbec
Neu Direction® Malbec is a premium Fair Trade Certified™ red wine available only at Sam’s Club®.
Stellar Winery Limited

Stellar Winery Limited is one of South Africa’s top producers and exporters of organic, fair trade wines. Workers on the farms and in the winery together own 26% of the enterprise through company shares. Stellar Winery Limited is independently audited by Fair for Life®. Fair for Life® is a third-party, non-profit organization that promotes fair wages and development initiatives for workers and their communities.

FAIR.®

FAIR.® is a French spirits company that started in 2009, making the world’s first vodka certified by Fairtrade International. Since then, the company has expanded to produce rum, gin and two different flavored liqueurs. FAIR.® sources its raw ingredients from farms around the world that follow rigorous practices to ensure farmers are paid enough to cover their production costs, live off their farms, pay for their children’s education and build schools.

Sam’s Club®

Sam’s Club® has a fair trade wine called Neu Direction® Malbec which is produced by Viña de la Solidaridad, a cooperative representing 20 small farms near Mendoza, Argentina. The London Independent recognized the wine as the best Fair Trade Certified™ red wine in the world in February 2008. Purchasing Fair Trade Certified™ products supports building a better life for workers and their farming family communities through fair prices and good labor practices.

Target®

Target® owns a private label fair trade wine product, Wandering Grape™ Malbec Merlot, which comes from producers that strive to improve the quality of life of vineyard workers, their families and their communities. The grapes for Wandering Grape™ Malbec Merlot are from ten farms in the communities of Lavalle, San Martin and Medrano areas in Mendoza, Argentina. The communities have used their sales to fund projects such as a daycare for preschool children, healthcare facilities and adult literacy programs.
The electronics industry’s supply chains are tainted with slave labor, from the mineral extraction stage to the product assembly phase.

Though there are no certified fair trade electronics, industry leaders have introduced and enforced policies related to fair wages, traceability and auditing.

PRODUCTS

We recommend the following products as slavery-free options.

Cell Phones

Fairphone® 2

While not fair trade certified, Fairphone® 2 is the best example in the electronics sector of a product produced with fair trade and conflict-free standards in mind.
Intel® is known for making semiconductor chips, motherboards and processors for computers. Starting in the second quarter of 2016, products will feature a “DRC conflict-free” symbol. Since 2009, Intel® has been concerned with tracing minerals such as gold, tantalum, tin and tungsten to ensure that its products are not financing or benefiting armed groups in the Democratic Republic of the Congo. The company has historically been a part of responsible sourcing groups and initiatives. It has been highly involved with the Electronic Industry Citizenship Coalition®, Global Sustainability Initiative®, the Conflict-Free Sourcing Initiative®, Solutions for Hope and RESOLVE’s Public-Private Alliance for Responsible Minerals Trade.

In 2013, Nokia® released the results of its devices and services supply chain inquiry, disclosing which of its facilities were participating, compliant or non-compliant with the Conflict-Free Smelter Program. The Conflict-Free Smelter Program utilizes an independent auditor to identify and audit smelters and refiners in order to promote conflict-free sourcing.

Hewlett Packard® has been part of the effort to source conflict-free minerals since 2008. In 2015, Hewlett Packard® required its suppliers to only source from smelters compliant with the Conflict-Free Smelter Program. It is also a part of the former Conflict-Free Tin Initiative, RESOLVE’s Public-Private Alliance for Responsible Minerals Trade and Solutions for Hope.

Fairphone® started as a campaign in 2010 as Bas van Abel and Peter van der Mark sought to address the use of conflict minerals. In 2011, the ideation for the Fairphone® phone model began to take shape, and one of the founders went on a fact-finding mission to the Democratic Republic of the Congo - a country known for having a significant number of mines controlled by armed groups who utilize child soldiers and child labor. In 2013, Fairphone® became a social enterprise, and the sourcing and design processes took off culminating in the delivery of the first generation of phones by the end of the year. Fairphone® began shipping out a second version of the phone in December 2015. The Fairphone® team consistently visits the mines they source from, assesses the factories making their component parts and collaborates with supply chain experts to improve product production and to increase transparency and accountability.
In efforts to cut costs in the manufacturing process, companies and designers produce clothing that is made using slave labor, undisclosed and unsustainable working practices and a lack of transparency in the development process.

PRODUCTS

We recommend the following products as slavery-free options.

Tops

- Indigenous™ Hand Dipped Tank
  Made by fair trade artisans in Peru, this organic cotton Indigenous™ Hand Dipped Tank is free from slave labor.

- YOGASMOGA® Tickle Me Tank
  The YOGASMOGA® Tickle Me Tank is made with breathable and light mesh fabric manufactured in the U.S.

- Nomads, Clothing Fitted Organic Cardigan
  Made with 100% organic cotton, Nomads, Clothing Fitted Organic Cardigan is produced ethically with respect for both the artisans and the environment.

- prAna® Nadine Sweater
  The 100% organic cotton prAna Nadine Sweater is Fair Trade Certified™ and supports better working conditions for factory workers.
Sleepwear

PACT™ Super Soft Organic Women’s PJ Set
This pajama set is made with organic and Fair Trade Certified™ cotton to ensure a soft, comfortable, and ethical product.

Noctu Women’s Cotton Nightie
The Noctu Women’s Cotton Nightie uses slavery-free cotton from Fairtrade International.

Bottoms

Karuna Capri PUNJAMMIES® Lounge Pants
These Karuna Capri PUNJAMMIES® Lounge Pants are made by women in India who have escaped human trafficking.

People Tree™ Ripley Pencil Skirt
People Tree™ Ripley Pencil Skirt is made by Mandala, an ethical enterprise that respects workers’ rights.

Dresses

Indigenous™ Essential Tank Dress
Made by fair trade artisans in Peru, the Indigenous™ Essential Tank Dress is made by fairly paid workers.

Everlane® Silk Tank Dress
This Everlane® Silk Tank Dress is made in Hangzhou, China in a factory regularly visited by the Everlane® team.
In efforts to cut costs in the manufacturing process, companies and designers produce clothing that is made using slave labor, undisclosed and unsustainable working practices and a lack of transparency in the development process.

PRODUCTS

We recommend the following products as slavery-free options.

Tops

Good & Fair™ Men’s Crew Neck Tee
Good & Fair™ Men’s Crew Neck Tee is Fair Trade Certified™ and a slavery-free wardrobe staple.

Tompkins Point Apparel Classic Polo
This Fair Trade Certified™ and organic Tompkins Point Apparel Classic Polo was ethically produced in Calcutta, India from 100% Indian cotton purchased from farmer-owned trading companies.

Cotopaxi® Toliman Wool Hoodie
This Cotopaxi® Toliman Full-Zip Wool Hoodie Made is made by fairly paid workers in Portland, Oregon.

Patagonia® Men’s Better Sweater® Fleece Vest
Patagonia® Men’s Better Sweater® Fleece Vest is made using bluesign® approved fabric and Fair Trade Certified™ sewing.
prAna® Sediment Short
While not specifically fair trade, the prAna® Sediment Short is using a variety of other sustainable practices, and prAna® continues its commitment to add more fair trade goods.

Everlane® Slim Pant
The Everlane® Slim Pant is made in a Dongguan, China factory regularly visited by the Everlane® team.

Cotopaxi® Samburu Shorts
The Cotopaxi® Samburu Shorts are made in Portland, Oregon and are free from slave labor.

Indigenous™ Men’s Alpaca Shawl Collar Cardigan
Indigenous™ Men’s Alpaca Shawl Collar Cardigan is made by fair trade artisans in Peru.

Everlane® Quilted Peacoat
The Everlane® Quilted Peacoat is produced by a factory in Suzhou, China that respects workers’ rights.

PACT® Men’s Organic Trunk
PACT® Men’s Organic Trunk is made with Fair Trade Certified™ cotton.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>BEST</th>
<th>BETTER</th>
<th>GOOD</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Patagonia®</td>
<td>Sudara™</td>
<td>Everlane®</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>In 2011, Patagonia® found forced laborers making its products. Since then, it has been dedicated to eliminating slave labor from its supply chains. It publicly discloses the conditions on the farms, mills and factories making its products and adds to its collection of Fair Trade Certified™ items every year.</td>
<td>Sudara™ employs women in India who were trafficked for sex and partners with factories that are WRAP® certified and that comply with FAIRTRADE® Standards.</td>
<td>Everlane® provides classic wardrobe staples. It practices radical transparency by providing consumers with information about its factories and exact production and mark up costs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>People Tree™</td>
<td>Tompkins Point Apparel (M)</td>
<td>Overstock.com® Worldstock Fair Trade®</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>People Tree™ sources 90% of its products from fair trade suppliers and is an accredited member of the World Fair Trade Organization. People Tree™ was the world’s first clothing company to receive the World Fair Trade Organization Product Label in 2013.</td>
<td>Tompkins Point Apparel is a Fair Trade Certified™ clothing manufacturer that donates 25% of its profits to charities connected with the communities housing its factories.</td>
<td>Overstock.com® Worldstock Fair Trade® seeks to bridge the gap between artisans and consumers by providing an online venue to sell and buy fairtrade goods produced all over the globe.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>YOGASMOGA®</td>
<td>Indigenous™</td>
<td>Good &amp; Fair™</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>YOGASMOGA® maintains a Platinum Certificate of Compliance from Worldwide Responsible Accredited Production (WRAP®) and only utilizes facilities that are also participating suppliers of the Fair Labor Association (FLA®). In addition, YOGASMOGA® created the NAMASKAR FOUNDATION to give back to communities in the Himalayan villages that produce its clothing lines.</td>
<td>Indigenous™ is a Certified B Corporation™ that partners with over 300 fair trade artisans from around the world who are paid fair wages and work in safe conditions.</td>
<td>Good &amp; Fair™ is a Fair Trade Certified™ clothing company and utilizes a localized supply chain in India that maintains fair trade standards from farm to factory.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>prAna®</td>
<td>PACT®</td>
<td>Nomads Clothing (W)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>prAna® maintains a Fair Trade Certified™ clothing line dedicated to ensuring fair wages, high working standards and investment into community and sustainable development.</td>
<td>PACT™ is a Fair Trade Certified™ clothing manufacturer that ensures fair labor practices through oversight of factories and a no-sweatshop, no-child labor guarantee.</td>
<td>Nomads Clothing is a member of the Ethical Fashion Forum (EFF) and the British Association for Fair Trade Shops (BAFTS). Nomads Clothing also has its own fair trade requirements for manufacturing partnerships.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cotopaxi®</td>
<td>Undrest™ (W)</td>
<td>Cotopaxi®</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cotopaxi® is a B Corp Certified™ outdoor clothing company that gives back to the community by collaborating with high-impact organizations that build sustainable solutions with local communities.</td>
<td>Undrest™ maintains ethical labor practices by complying with California Fair Wage Labor Conditions. 80% of its brands are Made in California, and the other 20% are made in compliance with Humane Labor Conditions.</td>
<td>Cotopaxi® is a B Corp Certified™ outdoor clothing company that gives back to the community by collaborating with high-impact organizations that build sustainable solutions with local communities.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Fast fashion results in the exploitation of workers in the cotton and garment industries. Adults and children alike are coerced to produce low-end and high-end athletic apparel.

PRODUCTS

We recommend the following products as slavery-free options.

- Apolis® Transition Scout Short
  This Apolis® Transition Scout Short is made by fairly paid adult workers.

- PUMA® Slim Sweatpants
  PUMA® Slim Sweatpants are not fair trade, but PUMA® consistently audits its product suppliers and addresses labor violations.

- Patagonia® Women’s Hotline Top
  Along with other products from Patagonia®, the Women’s Hotline Top is made with Fair Trade Certified™ sewing and no child labor.

- prAna® Setu Hoodie
  Most of prAna®’s products, such as this Setu Hoodie, are Fair Trade Certified™ to indicate fair wage payments and decent working standards.
New Balance® works with several labor and international organizations to promote supply chain responsibility. It discloses a list of suppliers and consistently conducts factory audits.

Adidas® reports its suppliers, factories, and subcontractors and holds supplier training sessions addressing labor standards and transparent reporting. It has several community projects, one of which prevents child labor and provides education for children in Pakistan.

Nike® provides an interactive map showing its global manufacturing activities. The company supports various programs and collaborated to found the Girl Effect, a non-profit that combats poverty and stops exploitation by investing in the education, health and economic empowerment of girls.